It is possible to travel alone. But the good traveller knows that the journey is human life, and life needs company. 'Companion' means, etymologically, the person who eats the same bread. Happy are they who feel they are always on the road and that every person they meet is their companion. The good traveller takes care of his/her weary companions. S/he guesses when they lose heart. S/he takes them as s/ he finds them, listens to them. Intelligently, gently, above all lovingly, s/he encourages them to go on and recover their joy in the journey. Dom Helder Camara, Essential Writings,
